

Solutions for Non-Profit Organizations

You Grow Your Mission. We'll Take on the Tech.

The Non-Profit Organization is the poster child for “do more with less.” With a fundamental goal of reinvesting every dollar earned back into the NPO, it's imperative that every part of the operation is as lean and cost-effective as possible. You have many different people to serve including the people you help, the partner organizations you work with, and the donors that fund your operation. You use technology to make services more efficient, more available, and more cost-effective.

All of this technology needs a team to keep it running. Applications have to be installed, updated and tested to ensure they integrate with all your existing software. Each desktop, server or network device has to be installed, maintained and managed for security. In the face of these operational tasks, you need a partner that can scale up and down with your specific needs.

● CHALLENGES

From work force management to networked collaboration, and from reaching the people that need services to those that help pay for them, the IT profile of the NPO is a complex weave of technologies and services. Corserva provides the experience and expertise to establish and maintain the right mix of hardware, software, networks and data for your NPO.

— Quality Technology

Non-profits must use technologies (including cloud, social and mobile technologies) to increase the quantity of clients served, and, improve the quality of services provided.

Lower Costs

NPOs must take full advantage of technologies that reduce the cost of service provisioning. As well, the cost of support staff must be optimized to provide complete IT capabilities at the lowest possible cost.

Communication

The delivery channels for programs and services are exploding, encompassing, self-help applications, websites, e-mail, mobile, social, and other technologies. NPO's must take advantage of these technologies to drive innovation into their services offerings.

Collaboration

Collaboration is key to managing both resources and money. Sharing files, schedules and contact information through technology streamlines operations, reduces the workload for your staff and volunteers, and saves money.
